New Headway Pre-Intermediate Test Booklet

Note to the teacher

This booklet contains:

- 14 Unit Tests which revise the corresponding unit in New Headway Pre-Intermediate Student's Book. There are two versions (A and B) of each test. They cover the same material, but have been reorganized to allow easier administration of the tests in the classroom. Each test has a total score of 100.
- A Review Test (Units 1–7) and an Exit Test (Units 1–14), each with a total score of 100.
- An optional listening test at the back of the booklet for each unit, using original recordings.
- An Answer Key for all the exercises.
- Tapescripts for all the listening exercises.

There is a separate audio CD (40NEWHWTESTCD.03/GB) containing the recordings for the optional listening tests.

Track	Tapescript

8 Read the article. Circle the correct answer.

Some people are better communicators than others and this helps us to choose our jobs. People who work alone, for example, artists or postmen, don't need good communication skills. Musicians communicate with the other players through their music. However, workers who speak to the public all day, for example, hotel receptionists, need to enjoy meeting and helping people.

One profession that needs good communications skills (but does not always have them) is medicine. A clever doctor may not be very good at talking to his or her patients. Some teaching hospitals now train their medical students to have a good bed-side manner. This means the medical students learn to be kind and friendly when they are talking to sick people who are frightened or unhappy.

Another profession that needs good communication skills is the police force. The police learn to look carefully at faces and bodies so they can 'read' if a person is dangerous or not telling the truth.

- All / Some people are good communicators.
- A good receptionist likes working in a hotel / meeting people.
- Most / Some doctors are bad communicators.
- Doctors can't / can learn to communicate with ordinary people.
- A 'good bed-side manner' means you can talk about science / kindly to patients.
- Medical students are student doctors / sick students.
- Patients are dangerous / sick people.
- You can't / can learn to read body language.

Jake and Gaby are Americans. They moved from Ohio to London five years ago. Jake works for a bank and Gaby is a nurse at a big hospital in the city.

When asked why they moved to London, Jake says, 'Gaby got a job and I followed her. I didn't work for the first three months – I was looking for a flat to buy and looking after things at home. I started my job the day after we moved to this flat. Of course we speak the language but we had some problems at first. Just small things like the different words for food – and the different British accents can be difficult to understand.'

What do they like best? Gaby speaks for both of them, 'We love London, there's always something interesting to do. The parks, museums, and theatres are great. We like to go walking in the country at the weekends so we drive to Essex early on Sunday morning and walk all day. We're never going to live in Ohio again, we'd miss London too much.'

6 Read the text. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?

Jake and Gaby are Americans. They moved from Ohio to London five years ago. Jake works for a bank and Gaby is a nurse at a big hospital in the city.

What do they like best? Gaby speaks for both of them, 'We love London, there's always something interesting to do. The parks, museums, and theatres are great. We like to go walking in the country at the weekends so we drive to Essex early on Sunday morning and walk all day. We're never going to live in Ohio again, we'd miss London too much.'

When asked why they moved to London, Jake says, 'Gaby got a job and I followed her. I didn't work for the first three months – I was looking for a flat to buy and looking after things at home. I started my job the day after we moved to this flat. Of course we speak the language but we had some problems at first. Just small things like the different words for food – and the different British accents can be difficult to understand.'

8 Read the information. Write OS (Oxford Street), CM (Camden Market), or CS (Carnaby Street).

Carnaby Street was a famous London street in the 1960s when the Beatles were young and Britain was the centre of pop and fashion. Unfortunately, it is now a place for tourists where there isn't much to buy except postcards and badly-made souvenirs.

Oxford Street in central London is world-famous for its shops. However, many tourists find it isn't very interesting: the shops near Marble Arch are large department stores selling mass-produced things and at the other end of the street there are smaller shops selling cheap clothes and electrical goods.

Camden Market is in a fashionable area of north London. More than 9 million visitors go there every year. The market is open all week but it is busiest at the weekends. If you don't mind being with lots of people, it's great walking along the streets looking at the jewellery, clothes, and antique stalls. There are lots of small specialist shops and stalls selling interesting things from all over the world, so make sure you have lots of time to look around.

8 Read the information. Write OS (Oxford Street), CM (Camden Market), or CS (Carnaby Street).

Carnaby Street was a famous London street in the 1960s when the Beatles were young and Britain was the centre of pop and fashion. Unfortunately, it is now a place for tourists where there isn't much to buy except postcards and badly-made souvenirs.

Camden Market is in a fashionable area of north London. More than 9 million visitors go there every year. The market is open all week but it is busiest at the weekends. If you don't mind being with lots of people, it's great walking along the streets looking at the jewellery, clothes, and antique stalls. There are lots of small specialist shops and stalls selling interesting things from all over the world, so make sure you have lots of time to look around.

Oxford Street in central London is world-famous for its shops. However, many tourists find it isn't very interesting: the shops near Marble Arch are large department stores selling mass-produced things and at the other end of the street there are smaller shops selling cheap clothes and electrical goods.

My parents are great. They are very fair and they always discuss things with us. Dad worries about his little girls but Mum likes to give us enough freedom to learn from our mistakes. The only rule is that I must tell them where I'm going and who I am with. I think my parents have got it right: they are interested in us but they don't want to control us.

Janey 16

My parents were too careful – they worried about me and my two brothers all the time. Our parents both had terrible childhoods so they wanted ours to be perfect. Every minute of our lives was spent doing expensive things – we never got time to be kids just playing on our bikes in the street. What they don't understand is that we didn't want our childhood to be perfect – we wanted it to be normal. We were spoilt and I don't think they taught us the value of working for things. I learned that when I left home and started to spend my own money!

Lane House
Netherbourne Road
Ambridge

Dear All,

As you can see from the address, we are now in our new home! We got the keys last Thursday and moved in on Friday. It was the coldest day of the year, so we didn't enjoy it very much.

The new house has got five bedrooms, so it's a lot bigger than the old one. All our furniture looks very small and we keep losing the kids. We moved so the boys can have a bedroom each now they are getting older, and it's great having a spare room for visitors. Mike's parents very generously gave us some money when we moved so I think they will be our first guests.

One thing that is worse than the old place is the garden – the new one is smaller and it is very untidy. However, there's a park across the road so the boys can play football there. I can see the park from the front windows so I won't worry about them.

We're having a house warming party

- 1 This is a(n) formal / informal letter.
- 2 It is a letter to lots of people / one person.
- 3 The letter is about moving house / the children.
- 4 The writer is married with children / single with no family.

Lane House
Netherbourne Road
Ambridge

Dear All,

As you can see from the address, we are now in our new home! We got the keys last Thursday and moved in on Friday. It was the hottest day of the year, so we didn't enjoy it very much.

The new house has got five bedrooms, so it's a lot bigger than the old one. All our furniture looks very small and we keep losing the kids. We moved so the girls can have a bedroom each now they are getting older, and it's great having a spare room for visitors. Jack's brother very generously gave us some money when we moved so I think he will be our first guest.

One thing that is worse than the old place is the garden – the new one is smaller and it is very untidy. However, there's a park across the road so the girls can play there on their bikes. I can see the park from the front windows so I won't worry about them.

We're having a house warming party on the 22nd of next month

- 1 This is a(n) formal / informal letter.
- 2 It is a letter to lots of people / one person.

7 Read the review. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?

Our reporter asked Julia Jenkins about her favourite magazine, Hiya!

What is Hiya! magazine about?

Julia Jenkins (JJ) The magazine has all the latest celebrity news. If you need to know who has married who, who has been on holiday, and who has made a new film, this is the magazine for you. It also has TV listings, a crossword, recipes, and competitions.

Who is the magazine for?

JJ It's for everyone! People from ten to one hundred years old can enjoy it.

What is the best part of the magazine?

JJ The pictures are great. There are lots of photographs taken inside famous people's homes – you can see what their furniture and curtains are like. The other thing I like is that there isn't too much to read – the articles are very short.

What is the worst part of the magazine?

JJ There are sometimes very boring articles about people from European royal families that I have never heard of! The recipes look very difficult and expensive so I've never cooked one of their recipes.

How much does the magazine cost?

JJ It costs £1.50 which is cheaper than most magazines – I think it is good value. I have bought it every week since it started five years ago and the price has gone up 10% in that time.

- Hiya!* isn't about serious political news. ___

8 Read the letters and advice. Answer the questions.

Letter A We're having terrible problems with our fifteen-year-old son. He's stopped doing his school work, he won't talk to us, and he stays in his bedroom for hours listening to music. He doesn't have any friends and I think he's very unhappy. What's the best thing to do?

Sue

Letter B My daughter finished university last year and came back to live at home. I thought she would find herself a flat after a few months but she seems to be very happy living with me again. She has a good job and she gives me money each month. I love my daughter and I enjoy her company but I don't want her living in my house now. Any suggestions?

Jim

Readers' Advice

1 You should be happy that your daughter wants to live with you. Don't complain, you won't like it when she leaves you and you have to live alone.
Helen

2 Get help for your son as quickly as possible. You must speak to his school and take him to see your family doctor. You must try to talk to him even if he is rude or doesn't answer.
Daphne

3 You should ask your daughter to leave. You have a good relationship so you can say this kindly. You must give her enough time to find a new home – and perhaps you can help her.
Norah

4 Why are you worried? Your son is growing up and he has to make his own mistakes. Why shouldn't he stay in his bedroom? You should give your son the freedom to grow up.
Bill

A few years ago Shenzhen was a small fishing village in the middle of fields. Since then, it has become an enormous industrial city. Millions of Chinese people have moved from the countryside to work in the new factories. The factories in Shenzhen make clothes, toys, and electronic goods for Western countries. One in every three pairs of shoes in the world is made here.

The workers in Shenzhen come from all over China and they work long hours for low pay, because life in the countryside is worse. The workers don't live with their families; their homes are dormitories where they live and sleep with the other factory workers.

Under Chinese law, people mustn't work more than eight hours a day, they shouldn't do more than 40 hours extra work a week, and they must get more than $66 a month. However, the international human rights charity, Amnesty International, says workers often have to work much longer hours, and they are not paid enough money. The charity also estimates that an average of 13 workers a day lose a finger or an arm in an industrial accident.

9 Read the text and circle the correct letter.

Aron Ralston, 27, went out for a one-day walk in a US national park and was trapped when heavy rocks fell on him. An 800 lb (365kg) rock, or boulder, moved and fell on his right arm. He couldn't move his arm because it was trapped between the rock and the mountain. He stayed in this position for five days. He had very little food with him and only a few litres of water. After five days, he knew that to escape he had to cut off his arm. He thought about it carefully and then managed to amputate it with a small pocket knife. The operation took about an hour.

Mr Ralston then climbed down the mountain and walked 10 kilometres looking for help. Finally, he found some other walkers about three kilometres from a town. When he was rescued, he was very thirsty but calm.

After his ordeal, Mr Ralston said, 'I did what I had to do'. He also said that while he was trapped on the mountain, he sometimes felt at peace and at other times he felt depressed and very frightened.

Surprisingly, he wants to return to the wild when he has recovered.

6 Read the text and write short answers to the questions.

Fish has been eaten in Britain, an island, for thousands of years. In the 17th century potatoes were brought from Latin America. However, it wasn't until the 19th century that a Mr Marlin had the idea of putting fish and potatoes together and making fish and chips. When he opened his fish and chip shop in London in 1860 it quickly became popular with working people who needed quick, filling meals.

By the 1920s there were 31,000 fish and chip shops in Britain and although this number is now only 8,000, there are eight for every McDonald's. A recent study found that Britain's favourite fast food is still fish and chips. Second, third, and fourth positions went to pizza (Italian), duck (Chinese), and curry (Indian). Interestingly, the hamburger wasn't in the top ten.

The traditional way to eat fish and chips is to buy them wrapped in paper and to eat them with salt and vinegar. They used to be wrapped in newspaper but most are sold in white paper now. People eat their fish and chips in the street or take them home – and some people admit that they eat them in bed!

6 Read the text and answer the questions.

Bill Murray, Dan Ackroyd, and Harold Ramis starred in the 1984 film, Ghostbusters. This comedy film tells the story of three men who open a ghostbuster office. They are paid to go into haunted homes and offices to get rid of unwanted spirits and ghosts. The film won prizes for the title song and the special effects.

When the 1972 film The Exorcist was shown it caused a lot of arguments between people who thought it was entertainment and others who said it was dangerous. The film tells the story of a young girl who has a bad spirit living inside her. Her mother asked a vicar to help her cure the girl. This frightening horror film won lots of awards including best picture, best actress, best sound, and best screenplay from a book.

A more recent film with a supernatural story is Bruce Willis's 1999 film, The Sixth Sense. In this film, Bruce Willis plays the part of a doctor who looks after a young boy with behavioural problems. The boy 'sees' terrible things and in the end he tells his doctor, Willis, about his supernatural secret: he is visited by ghosts. A thrilling and frightening film, it was nominated for six awards but won nothing.

Lizzy Procter buys and sells art in south east Asia.

How did you get the job?

I have been living in Thailand since my husband's job brought him here five years ago. At first, I didn't have a job and I started thinking about what I really wanted to do. I have always loved art but I can't draw or paint so I decided that the next best thing was to work with local artists. I went to meet them and they were all men. That's when I decided to concentrate on selling paintings by women.

At first, I worked with only two women artists. I arranged an exhibition at a hotel in Bangkok. I was very nervous but lots of people came to look at the pictures and we sold all of them. The following year, I arranged a second exhibition and that time there was work by five artists. Since then, I have arranged an exhibition every year and it has grown from a small beginning into quite a important occasion for local artists.

Since 2001 I have been organizing a yearly exhibition in Hong Kong. Moving all the paintings is difficult but I enjoy the challenge. I've been working alone for five years now and I love it – I don't think I could work regular hours for a boss again.

Lizzy Procter buys and sells art in south east Asia.

How did you get the job?

I have been living in Thailand since my husband's job brought him here five years ago. At first, I didn't have a job and I started thinking about what I really wanted to do. I have always loved art but I can't draw or paint so I decided that the next best thing was to work with local artists. I went to meet them and they were all men. That's when I decided to concentrate on selling paintings by women.

At first, I worked with only two women artists. I arranged an exhibition at a hotel in Bangkok. I was very nervous but lots of people came to look at the pictures and we sold all of them. The following year, I arranged a second exhibition and that time there was work by five artists. Since then, I have arranged an exhibition every year and it has grown from a small beginning into quite a important occasion for local artists.

Since 2001 I have been organizing a yearly exhibition in Hong Kong. Moving all the paintings is difficult but I enjoy the challenge. I've been working alone for five years now and I love it – I don't think I could work regular hours for a boss again.

7 Read the article. Are the sentences true (T), false (F), or don't you know (?)?

George Franklin married his wartime girlfriend, Betsy Kennedy, last Friday – fifty-five years after they had first met at a dance.

The couple's romance started after George, an American, had been sent to an army base near Betsy's home in England. The couple, who were both seventeen at the time, were separated when George was sent to the Pacific. They wrote to each other every day for two years but at the end of the war George returned to the US.

George and Betsy both married other people but they never forgot about each other. In 2002, four years after his wife had died, George decided to search for Betsy through the Internet. It took him six months and at the end of that time he was amazed to get an email from Betsy's daughter inviting him to visit Britain.

Betsy, who had divorced her husband in the 1980s, said, 'I was so excited when I heard from George. I had never forgotten him. When we met him at the airport, I was delighted – he looked exactly the same, he hadn't changed in all those years.'

George told our reporter, 'I hadn't seen her for more than half a century but I knew immediately that I wanted to marry her. My only regret is that I hadn't looked for her sooner. We have both kept all those letters we wrote in the war.'

Angus Turner and Harriet Parker are one of Britain's most famous young couples. He wrote his first book when he was fifteen and since then he has written five more. She became famous two years ago when her first album, Care, was number one for three months.

Angus: We've been together for four years. When we met, I was working in a bar and Harriet was in her last year at college. She came into the bar with some friends and it was love at first sight.

Harriet: I adore him – I haven't looked at another man since that day. I'm pleased we met then – before we became famous. We have a normal life together because we met when we had nothing. We've got money now and we're famous but we haven't changed.

Angus: We got married and moved to this flat two months after we met. We can afford something bigger now but we haven't got enough time to find another one. Also, we've spent a lot of time on this place: I've painted the walls and built the bookcases. Harriet's has made a beautiful little garden on the balcony.

Harriet: Some things have changed since we both became famous – we are both very busy but we spend as much time together as possible. When I'm touring, Angus comes with me and writes his books in the hotel bedroom.

Angus: I trust Harriet one hundred per cent but I hate being away from her so I'm happy to fly all over the world with my laptop.

Hi Peter!
I'm in Prague with Felix. The weather's terrible, but Prague is lovely. There are some beautiful old buildings. We're staying in a nice hotel – it's small, but the rooms are comfortable. The weather was terrible yesterday, but it's a bit better today.

Constanza was born in Glasgow on 5 June 1960. Her father was an Italian ice-cream maker, and her mother was a factory worker. She left school when she was 16 and moved to London, and became a model and film actor. She was the girlfriend of punk singer Eric Evil for six years, and then in 1983 she went to Florence and studied Italian language and art for two years. She returned to London in 1986 and now she has a shop and gallery in Bond Street. In 1995 she married an MP, Sir Tristram D'Eath, and they have three children and homes in London, Milan, and New York.

Dear Sir or Madam
I am interested in doing a language course at your school. Could you give me some information about the price of a one-week course? I would also like to know what the class sizes are, and what the arrangements are for accommodation – do you have rooms for students there, or do students have to book a hotel? I look forward to hearing from you.
Yours faithfully,

10 Sample answer

Travelling by bicycle is a very good way to see the countryside. First of all it's cheap, and secondly it's clean. Also, you don't have to worry about parking your car or waiting a long time for a bus. It's healthy too!

However, in the city there are lots of disadvantages. There's a lot of traffic, which is dangerous and dirty, and also there aren't enough special places on the road for bicycles to use. If you cycle to work in the rain, you will be very wet when you arrive. This might be a problem if you have to look smart at work.

Despite the disadvantages, thousands of people travel by bicycle every day. Try it for a week – you might like it!

Dear [name]
I'm just writing to say thank you for the lovely weekend we spent with you. David and I enjoyed it very much. We especially enjoyed our walk in the mountains on Sunday – it was very different from our usual Sundays in London!
Did I leave my mobile phone at your house? I think it might be on the chair in the bedroom, because I can't find it anywhere!
You must come and stay with us here in London soon. We'll take you to see all the exciting places!

Sally met her brother Richard last weekend – for the first time! Sally was born when her mother was very young, and had been brought up in a different family. She always thought she would like to meet her real mother, and so last year she decided to try and find her. It was very difficult and it took a long time, but a year later, Sally was given a name and address in Manchester, and she finally found her mother. But that wasn't the end – she found Richard too!

Dear Lucy,
Thank you for a lovely weekend by the sea! It was really fun, and we were so lucky with the weather. I especially enjoyed meeting your brother Ben, and going for that long walk on Sunday. Would you like to come and stay with me next month? We could visit some galleries and see a film. How about the 24th? And bring Ben with you ... !

Tapescripts

T1 Neighbours

Alex

I moved into my new flat about a month ago. It's near my office so I can walk to work. There are three other flats in the building. I introduced myself to my new neighbours when I first moved in. Now I say 'hello' if I see them in the hall. There's a woman in flat 3 that I like – her name is Poppy. I think she is single because she lives alone with a cat and she hasn't got a boyfriend. I'm going to invite her for a drink next time I see her.

Poppy

I've lived in my flat for two years now. I moved here when I got divorced. The flats are OK – the people are friendly but we don't go into each others' flats for drinks or anything. A new man moved in to flat 4 recently, I don't like him – he's too friendly and he always opens his front door when I go past.

T2 You drive me mad!

E = Erin, B = Bill

E What drives me mad about my husband, Bill? Well, he's a great husband but the one thing that annoys me is that he can switch off and concentrate on one thing. For example, when he reads the newspaper he doesn't hear the children fighting. Also, I hate it when I speak to him and he says 'Yes, dear ... ahah ... mmm' and I know he isn't listening. I get really annoyed with him.

B Is it my turn to speak now? Erin is a wonderful woman but she talks too much. I don't listen most of the time.

E I hate it when he does that – he never takes me seriously. I get really annoyed because I'm trying to talk about something important and he doesn't listen or changes the subject.

B But you always want to talk to me when I'm doing something else. If I'm watching football she has this annoying habit of trying to talk to me. It drives me mad. But if I speak when she's watching TV she goes 'Shhh, be quiet, I'll speak to you later ...'

E At least I answer!

T3 A news story

Newsreader

A man is in police cells after an unsuccessful robbery attempt at Kenston post office. The burglar went into the post office as the manager, Mrs Elsie Elliot, was counting the day's money. Because Mrs Elliot can't hear very well, she didn't hear the armed man ask her for the money so she politely asked him to wait. The surprised burglar repeated his demand more loudly but Mrs Elliot still failed to react. Finally he shouted 'Give me the money or I will shoot you' and Mrs Elliot's husband, who was in the back room, heard him and telephoned the police. Mrs Elliot didn't know she was the victim of a robbery until the police arrived. After the man was arrested she said, 'I wasn't frightened – I thought he was a customer. I didn't hear what he said and I didn't see the gun. I asked him to wait – and he did, which is surprising.'

T4 The weekend shop

P = Paul, M = Mary

P Hi, it's me. I'm in the supermarket. I forgot the shopping list. Can you read it to me?

M Yes, it's here on the fridge door. Let me see: some carrots, potatoes and tomatoes.

P Carrots, potatoes, tomatoes. Shall I get a kilo of each?

M No, a kilo is too much, just get half a kilo.

P OK. Do we need anything else?

M Yes, lots of things. Can you see if they've got any nice apples? I want some for the children's lunches.

P Apples. How many?

M Get lots – enough for the whole week. Back to the list: orange juice – get two cartons, a litre of milk and some beer.

P Orange juice ... beer ... milk.

M Someone wrote chocolate on the list but don't buy any. The boys eat too much chocolate. And don't get any crisps.

P So you don't want any chocolate or crisps?

M No. I think that's enough. I'll go shopping tomorrow.

P Great. I'll be quick because there's no one here. See you in about half an hour.

M See you. Bye.

T5 My favourite thing

Minnie

My big passion is music. I love singing – I belong to two choirs – you know, singing groups – and next month I am singing in our school concert. Later in the year, we're going to sing at a Mozart festival in Vienna – that's in Austria, you know. It'll be fantastic – I'm really excited about it.

Musical instruments ... I can play the guitar and I would love to learn to play the piano.

We haven't got a piano at home but I ask my parents to buy one all the time. I know that one day they will say, 'Oh, all right. We'll get a piano – just stop asking every five minutes.' I always get what I want in the end. I'll need piano lessons but I'll worry about those when I've got the piano.

T6 What's Hong Kong like?

W = Woman, I = Interviewer

W When I say I live in Hong Kong the first questions is always: 'Is it very crowded? Are there loads of people everywhere?'

I Is that true? What is it like?

W Yes, it's true that there are lots of people living in a small space so it is a very busy city – it's the busiest place I've ever been to – but there is also a lot of fantastic countryside.

I Really? I'm surprised. I thought it was all tall office buildings, shops and blocks of flats.

W Yes, all those things are there and but it is also very green and mountainous. I quite like the crowds – it's such an exciting city because it never stops, the people work very hard and there is always something happening. I work longer hours than I did in London.

I get the ferry to work every day – it really is a much nicer journey than catching the underground in Britain. It's beautiful going across the harbour twice a day.

I Is it very polluted?

W Yes, to be honest the sea isn't very clean. The pollution is a problem because there is a lot of industry in the area. The traffic pollution is better than it was – you can only buy unleaded petrol. And the public transport is so good and cheap that you don't need a car.

I Is it an expensive place to live?

W The biggest expense for most people is their rent. It's a small place and there isn't very much space so flats are quite difficult to find and they are expensive. My rent is three times higher than it was in London.

T7 My grandparents

G = Grandson, F = Friend

G Now our grandparents are retired they go away for four months in the winter.

F That sounds like a good idea. Where do they go?

G Southern Europe and North Africa – anywhere that is warm and sunny. They've bought a camper van – you know those big things like a home on wheels: bed, kitchen, table ... everything.

F Do they live in the van for four months?

G That's always the plan but they have stayed in hotels when the weather is bad or they want a change.

F Are they away now?

G Yes, they are. They've been away for about three weeks. We got a postcard from Granada the other day – they've been there for a week and they've been to most of the famous sights.

F Is that how they keep in touch? Sending postcards?

- G Usually. I've tried to ring them a few times but they never have their mobile phone switched on. I also showed them how to use email in an Internet café but I haven't received a message yet.
- F Have they ever had any problems on the road?
- G Not really. The van's broken down a couple of times but my grandfather used to be an engineer so he can mend it. My grandmother is the one with the languages – her parents were refugees and she has spoken French and Spanish all her life.
- F Have you ever thought about going with them?
- G No, I haven't. I don't think the van is big enough for all of us.

T 8 My job

I = Interviewer, B = Bella

- I Tell me about your job, Bella.
- B Well, I'm a supply teacher. That means I work when other teachers are sick or are away studying.
- I So what do you have to do?
- B I teach other people's classes. If I'm lucky, I get some warning. I get a telephone call from the head teacher a week or so before they need me but sometimes – in an emergency – they ring me in the morning and I have to go to the school immediately.
- I And what do you have to do when you get there?
- B I take over the class for a half a day, a day, or a week, or however long the real teacher is away for. I teach them and do all the things their normal teacher does.
- I Don't you find it difficult – you know – without any warning?
- B No, not really. I've got lots of experience – I was a full-time teacher until two years ago – so I don't have to do hours of work before a lesson.
- I Oh, so you are a trained teacher?
- B Yes, you have to have a qualification to teach. I trained about twenty years ago.
- I How many days week do you work?
- B It varies. Sometimes I go in every day, other weeks I don't do anything ... I definitely prefer my work now because if I don't want to go to work one day, or if I want to take a holiday one week, I can! (fade)

T 9 The future of our world

P = Presenter, S = Silvana, L = Lewis

- P Today in the studio my guests are Silvana Veiga and Lewis Sewell and we'll be discussing the future of our world. I'm sure lots of you listeners will want to telephone and give your views ... our number is 0800 234 2345. ... But we'll start here in the studio: Silvana, are you an optimist or a pessimist about the future?

- S I'm afraid I'm a pessimist. I think things will get worse, not better. I think the difference between rich and poor countries will become even bigger. Big international companies will control the supply of things like medicine so people in poorer countries won't be able to get the best health care.
- P Lewis, do you share Silvana's ideas about the future?
- L In fact, I don't. I'm very optimistic – I think the future will be better. For the world's population to survive, we will need to work together. For example, I think there will be a world government.
- S I disagree, I don't think there'll be one world government. I think there will be two or three enormous governments that will rule different parts of the world. They won't work together – they will want to control the world's resources so they will be at war most of the time.
- P Let's go to our first caller, Harriet. Hello Harriet (fade)

T 10 My life then and now

Speaker 1 = S1, Speaker 2 = S2

- S1 Well, nowadays my life is quite good fun. I've had my job for two years and it's going well, I earn enough money to pay for my flat and to go out and do the things I enjoy doing.
- S2 For example?
- S1 Nothing fancy, just simple things. I like going out for meals with friends, going for walks, watching TV, things like that.
- S2 So what was the problem before?
- S1 I was a student! It wasn't a 'problem' but I didn't have any money. I used to get some money from my parents but it was difficult because I was living in London where everything is so expensive.
- S2 Oh, I see. So you were short of money, that was the problem?
- S1 Yes, and I was doing medicine so I had to spend such a lot of time studying. I did have a part time job in a pub so I used to finish lectures, quickly have something to eat and then go to work in the pub from 8 to 11. Then I used to go home and do my essays. It was exhausting but I managed to do a job and study all the time I was a student.
- S2 But you're not a doctor now? Why not?
- S1 I gave it up. I did four years at medical school and realized that it wasn't for me. I got fed up with being exhausted and poor so I decided to leave and get a job with reasonable hours.
- S2 That must have been a big decision?
- S1 Yes, it was but I'm glad I made it.

T 11 The history of tea in Britain

P = Presenter, HP = Harry Perkins

- P Good morning. Today on Worldly Wise my guest is Harry Perkins, a tea expert.

Two hundred million cups are drunk every day in Britain – that's a lot of gallons of tea, isn't it?

- HP Yes it is. British people are world-famous for drinking tea but it's only been here for about 350 years. In other countries, in Asia, it's been drunk for 4000 years.
- P Where did it come from originally?
- HP China. The story is that more than 4000 years ago, a Chinese servant was boiling some water and some leaves fell in it. His boss drank the new drink, liked it and tea was born.
- P So that was 4000 years ago. How did it get to Europe?
- HP We're not sure – some people say that it was the Arabs and others think it was brought here by the Dutch or the Portuguese in the 16th century. We know that it was drunk in Britain in the 17th century.
- P Was it immediately popular?
- HP People liked it but it was very expensive. Only very rich people could buy it: it took about a year to ship a cargo of tea from Asia to Europe, there was a very high tax on it – more than 100%. In the early 18th century, a half kilo of tea cost about three weeks' wages for an ordinary person.
- P Three weeks wages for some tea! That's a lot of money!
- HP Yes, it is. The rich people who could afford to buy tea kept it locked in special silver or wood boxes so the servants couldn't steal it.
- P And now we can all buy it.
- HP Yes, 70% of people in Britain drink tea regularly – and the average is three cups a day.

T 12 Who knows?

I = Interviewer, S = Stuart

- I Stuart, tell me about your plans for when you finish school.
- S Well, I finish my exams in June and after that I'm going on holiday with Mum and Dad. We're away for two weeks – after that I'm not sure what I'll do.
- I What are the possibilities?
- S I may get a summer job ... I should get a job because I want to save some money. I'm going to college in October to study law and I'll need some savings. I'd prefer not to work – if I got a summer job, I wouldn't be able to go to the beach with my friends ... things like that.
- I Will you live at home with your parents while you study law?
- S Yes, I'll have to for the first couple of years at least – but then I may get a part-time job and move out – it's just very expensive to do that at the moment.
- I What will you do if you don't pass your exams? You know, after the summer and you get your results ... what will you do if you don't pass?

- S That's a difficult question – I think I'll pass but if I don't ... I don't know what I'll do. I haven't got another plan.
- I Would you take the exams again?
- S Yes, I would. I wouldn't want to miss the opportunity of going to college so yes, I'd take them again.
- I You wouldn't look for a job?
- S I don't think my parents would let me. I think they'd want me to take my exams again.
- I Well, hopefully it's a decision you won't have to make.

T 13 A business trip

I = Ilona, T = Thomas

- I Hi Thomas? It's me, Ilona. How are you?
- T I'm fine thanks. What about you? How are the kids?
- I We're all fine – but I'll be glad when you get home. What have you been doing?
- T I've been in meetings most of the time but I have been able to see a bit of Warsaw.
- I Have you been eating out in the local restaurants?
- T Yes, the Polish manager has taken me to her favourite places. We went to a traditional restaurant last night – the food was delicious.
- I But you've been working hard too?
- T Yes, definitely. We've been starting at 7.30 each morning with breakfast meetings and not finishing until 8 or 9 in the evening.
- I What's the hotel like?
- T It's OK – nothing special really – but it's clean and comfortable – oh and the owners are very nice. What about you? Have you been doing lots?
- I Not much. I've been swimming at lunch time a couple of times but it's difficult to do anything after work because of the children. When you get back I'm planning to (fade)

T 14 The novelist

I = Interviewer, D = Daniel Gregory

- I Tell me, Mr Gregory, what are you working on at the moment?
- D I'm just finishing another of my Inspector Prentice novels.
- I So how many have you written now?
- D This will be the sixth.
- I Have you always written novels about the police?
- D No, I haven't. Before I started writing fiction, I was a BBC journalist. After 20 years of living in hotels I had had enough and decided to make a living out of fiction writing. I'd written one or two short stories so I decided to start writing full-time. I've been very lucky – my books are popular in countries everywhere: Canada, Australia, France, Argentina ...
- I May I ask about your private life? You've recently remarried?

- D Yes, I have. My first marriage ended in divorce a year ago and I recently married Veronica. We've been married for six months now and we're very happy together.
- I Veronica is a lot younger than you – she was your children's babysitter, wasn't she?
- D Yes, she is thirty years younger than me but that isn't important ... her father was one of my best friends so I've known her since she was a baby. I think she might have looked after the children when she was at school – I don't know because my first wife used to make all the arrangements for the children.
- I I see. Returning to your writing: Do you have any ideas for your next book?
- D Indeed. It will be the story of a charming older man whose second wife is murdered by his jealous first wife.

T 15 Review test My family

Maria

Both sides of my family – my mum's and my dad's – are from a very small town south of Dublin. My father is the postman and he also runs the local garage. My mum has a small shop at the garage where she sells things like newspapers, milk, bread – you know, everyday things.

My dad's sisters – he's got five – all live in the village. Two of them went away to the States when they were in their twenties but they came back a few years ago. They were both nurses and they worked in Boston for about fifteen years. I went to see them a couple of times when I was a student. Anyway, they've both been back in Ireland since 1998.

Uncle Sean – that's my mum's only brother – went to university in England where he studied business and economics. Now he lives and works in Dublin for an international company but he has bought a small house near my mum and dad and he takes his family there every weekend. I think his wife likes our big family – it means she's got lots of people to help her with their children.

T 16 Exit test An interview with Sir Harry

P = Presenter, SHW = Sir Harry Wirral

- P My guest in the studio today is Sir Harry Wirral – 86 years old this week and still performing on the London stage. Harry, perhaps we can start by talking about the play you are in at the moment?
- SHW Yes, it's a Shakespeare play. I've got quite a small part – I'm only on stage for ten minutes so I didn't have to learn many lines. Also, I'm on at the end so I can stay behind for a drink with all the other actors who have done all the hard work before I get there.
- P But it hasn't always been like that, has it? You have acted all the big Shakespeare parts in your time. Can you tell me about your early career in the theatre?

- SHW My first serious acting job was when I was 20. Before that I had been in some musical comedies – singing and dancing things like that – but then I was given the part of Hamlet and since then my first love has been serious theatre.
- P But you do occasionally appear in Hollywood films?
- SHW Of course, I've got to make a living, haven't I? You don't earn much doing Shakespeare. Yes, I do serious things in the theatre in the evenings and I do films during the day to make some money.
- P And do you still sing and dance?
- SHW Only in my own home! I haven't sung in the theatre for about 50 years. In the films I usually play a typical English man – it's boring but I don't care.
- P And what about the future? Do you have any plans to stop working?
- SHW No, I don't. I want to keep working for as long as possible – I love it and it keeps me young. If I stopped working, I'd be dead in six months. I tried to retire when I was 70 and it was terrible – I sat at home and watched TV.
- P Sir Harry, thank you for being my guest this morning. (fade)
