

INTAKE
MANIFOLD
9424

A technical line drawing of an engine's intake manifold assembly. The drawing shows a multi-ported intake manifold (part 9424) mounted to a cylinder head. The manifold has four main runners leading to the cylinders. A retaining bolt is shown passing through the manifold and the cylinder head to secure the assembly. Various other components like gaskets, nuts, and washers are also depicted. A leader line points from the text 'INTAKE MANIFOLD 9424' to the manifold part.
